SENATOR FROM CALIFORNIA A CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST

While Opposing Bill For Creation Of Department of Health Senator Works Told of Faith Healings--Denounces American Medical Society.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—The Senate today listened to the remarkable story as to how one of its members had become converted to Christian Science and how his wife and son had been cured by its teachings. The story was told by Senator Works, of California, who opposed the bill creating a department of health.

The story told by the senator was one of the strangest ever listened to on the floor of the Senate. Senator Works said he and his wife had been invalids for a number of years before adopting the Christian Science treatment. His son, he said, had been a drunkard but now was a total abstainer.

The California Senator charged the American Medical Society with being back of the effort to cripple Christian Science all over the country. He declared that they were trying to put through Congress a bill solely to license physicians no matter whether medicine was administered in a faith cure or not.

Steel Men Plan to Forestall Government.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—Representative Stanley, chairman of the House committee investigating the steel trust expressed the belief today that the conference of steel men now going on at Brussels, Belgium, and the proposed international working agreement between the steel men of the world is to forestall probable competition in the open market in the event that the United States Steel corporation is dissolved.

Stanley's statement indicates that the committee will make some recommendations as to the tariff on steel and it is not improbable that the dissolution of the steel corporation may be urged by the House committee.

Aviators Back in France.

Special to Telegram.

Calais, France, July 6.—The convoy of French aviators, who descended on the English coast last Monday, began their flight today from Dover at daybreak and half an hour later settled in France. This completes the eighth leg to the journey. The next will be from Calais to Paris.

GOVERNMENT RENEWS FIGHT ON RAILROAD CONTROL OF MINES

Test Case Filed Against Lehigh Valley Railroad In Effort To Break Railway Control of Coal Mines—Alleged That Railroads Restrain Competition In Mining.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—The government will renew the fight to disassociate the great coal carrying railroads from their control of mines and thus vitalize the commodities clause of the Interstate Commerce laws. A test case against the Lehigh Valley Railroad was filed in the United States court in Philadelphia today.

It is alleged that the railroad is not a bona fide railroad but merely adjuncts for evading the commodities clause of the law. It is also alleged that the railroads own the mines and are able to shut out competition between independent coal operators and the trust operators.

The case when decided will specifically construe the law as to whether or not railroads can engage in other enterprises besides purely railroading.

LINEMAN IS BADLY BURNED BY LIVE WIRE

Special to Telegram.

Spencer, July 6.—Entangled in a live wire 25 feet from the ground while at work on a telephone line, G. L. Williams, of Spencer, was seriously burned today. Twenty-three hundred volts of electricity passed through his body. He was employed by the Southern Bell Telephone Company in rebuilding their plant at Spencer. He is in a precarious condition in the Salisbury hospital.

TAFT GETS IN CLASS WITH ROOSEVELT

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—President Taft has at last arrived in the Roosevelt class. He accepted an honorary membership in the grand camp of Rough Riders of California. The president will leave Washington tomorrow for Atlantic City where he will address the convention of Christian Endeavorers. Later he and a number of Senators will spend a two days' tour on the Atlantic ocean aboard the Mayflower, returning then to the White House.

With Black lying unconscious in the street and Hemphill making for the tall timber at a prodigious rate of speed, Policeman Causey arrived on the scene of the fray. The officer set out in pursuit and the fugitive hailed a street carriage and drove across the country to Summit avenue at a fast pace. Causey followed in another hack and almost reached his man when opposite the Caesar Cone property. When his nearest was discovered the negro jumped and ran. He attempted to dive through the tall hedge surrounding Mr. Cone's residence and inadvertently found himself sprawling across the top of a wire fence. When he gained the other side the officer was on him and bore him away to jail in triumph.

Will Hemphill is an employee at the Clegg Hotel, and it was concerning his spouse that the two gladiators shed such a quantity of their blood. Will declared she was too intimate with Charlie and warned him against such a course, uttering numerous threats concerning the happenings of the future if he did not mend his ways. His words of warning fell on deaf ears and yesterday they met on Gilmer street to decide once for all the ownership of the woman. Will used a case-knife in his attack and Black hastily armed him.

Police Officer McCulston escorted the vanquished negro, Black, to the jail where both had their wounds treated. They will be arraigned as soon as their wounds permit of their being brought before Judge Eure.

STOKES

Tells Of Circumstances That Led To His Being Shot By Chorus Girls

Special to Telegram.

New York, July 6.—Despite the heat a large crowd gathered in the Central Street police court this afternoon to hear the sensational testimony expected in the examining trial of Ethel Conrad and Lillian Graham, the chorus girls charged with shooting W. E. Stokes, the millionaire proprietor of the Hotel Ansonia. The prisoners arrived at the court in an electric taxicab handsomely gowned.

Stokes was the first witness and described how he was lured to the apartment occupied by the women. He testified that the Graham woman leveled a revolver at him when he came into the apartment and soon after Miss Conrad came in and covered him with a gun. He said they attempted to make him write a retraction of alleged slanderous statements which he was supposed to have said about them. He also declared that the women demanded that he write a check for $25,000. He said he refused to do this whereupon Miss Graham tried to force him. A struggle ensued, during which Miss Graham fired her revolver and the Conrad woman yelled for the police.

At this juncture the trial was continued until tomorrow. Stokes will again take the stand and it is thought that the two defendants will follow.

APPLICATIONS STILL POURING IN FOR COMMISSIONERSHIP

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, July 6.—The contest for the appointment by Governor Kitchin of a successor to the late Henry Clay Brown as Corporation Commissioner opened up in earnest today with the arrival of the first delegation in the interest of a candidate. This was from Oxford and was in the interest of ex-Speaker of the House A. W. Graham of Oxford. In the delegation were Gen. B. S. Royster, A. A. Hicks, W. A. Devin, Col. R. A. Gregory. They are pressing the appointment of Judge Graham on the ground of being especially fitted for the duties of the office through past public service and that he was the next choice in the Charlotte convention after the nominee. The delegation found Governor Kitchin out of the city when they filed into the executive offices, he having gone to Cullowhee county to deliver a Masonic address tomorrow. Numbers of applications for the appointment and floods of letters in the interest of various candidates poured into the executive offices today through the mails. Just who has and who has not made application has not developed yet. Additional possible appointees being discussed are A. H. Eller, Winston-Salem; J. Allen Holt, Guilford; Dr. Gordon, Guilford.

With Black lying unconscious in the street and Hemphill making for the tall timber at a prodigious rate of speed, Policeman Causey arrived on the scene of the fray. The officer set out in pursuit and the fugitive hailed a street carriage and drove across the country to Summit avenue at a fast pace. Causey followed in another hack and almost reached his man when opposite the Caesar Cone property. When his nearest was discovered the negro jumped and ran. He attempted to dive through the tall hedge surrounding Mr. Cone's residence and inadvertently found himself sprawling across the top of a wire fence. Two cars were passing on a double track and confusion incident to this caused Mr. Long to step in front of the car heading toward the state house. Fortunately he fell out from the track so that he was not caught under the car. He was carried to Rex Hospital where his wounds were dressed. He was able to resume his seat in the jury box this afternoon.

The court devoted today's session to hearing the opening argument for the plaintiff by C. C. Daniels. He was followed by R. W. Winston, for the American Tobacco Co. It is expected now that the argument will not be concluded before Monday or Tuesday of next week.

HITCHCOCK MAY FIGHT HILLES TO CONTROL SOUTHERN PATRONAGE

Alabama Republican Delegations
At White House Allege Rupture
In Taft's Official Family—Fight
In Prospect For Republican National Chairmanship.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—Rival delegations of Alabama Republicans brought to the White House today the information that a serious rupture had occurred between Postmaster General Hitchcock and Secretary Hilles over the handling of Southern political patronage. It was even intimated that the conflict would not fall short of a fight which would take place in a few months for the Republican National Chairmanship.

Hilles is accused of taking sides with a certain faction in the Alabama controversy in which Hitchcock was interested. Mr. Hilles viewpoint was shaped at a conference at the White House between Booker T. Washington and President Taft.

When seen late tonight Mr. Hitchcock denied that there was any friction between the President's secretary and himself. He refused to discuss the case further.

MAINE SUNK BY INTERIOR EXPLOSION

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—The cause of the explosion of the magazine of the Battleship Maine while in the Havana harbor in 1908 will remain a secret according to a statement given out today by Brigadier General Bixby, chief of engineers of the U. S. Army. General Bixby believes that the Maine was destroyed by an interior explosion in the forward magazine.

ELLIOTT SAID FISH COMMISSIONER LIED

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—Fish Commissioner Bowers perjured himself before the committee said Prof. Henry Elliott, a fur seal expert, while testifying today before the House committee on expenditures in the department of commerce and labor investigating charges that seals owned by the government had been wantonly slaughtered. Commissioner Bowers and Prof. Elliott almost had a fight. The chairman of the committee, however, interfered and abruptly adjourned the hearing.

SENATOR GRONNA SPOKE AGAINST RECIPROCITY BILL

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—An attack on the Canadian reciprocity bill on the grounds that it surrenders the markets of the American farmer without any recompense; that the agreement was a usurpation of authority by the President and that the bill should have originated in the House of Representatives was made in the Senate today by Senator Gronna, of North Dakota. He opposed the bill and severely criticized the President for exceeding his constitutional powers.

hearing the opening argument for the plaintiff by C. C. Daniels. He was followed by R. W. Winston, for the American Tobacco Co. It is expected now that the argument will not be concluded before Monday or Tuesday of next week.

President Taft Donned Cap and Gown on Recent Visit to Yale

PRESIDENT TAFT is a Yale man, as every one knows. He graduated in the class of '78, being second in the class, which numbered 121. He was the salutatorian and class orator. At that time he got the degree of B. A., and in 1893 Yale gave him the degree of LL. D. Mr. Taft is proud of Yale, and Yale is proud of Mr. Taft. Several times since he has been president he has returned to his alma mater to attend commencements and other functions. He takes an active interest in affairs that concern Yale, and he has often favored graduates of that university in making appointments. The above picture was made on his recent visit to New Haven, where he was present when degrees were given to nearly 1,000 students. Mr. Taft was on his way to Woolsey hall, where the degrees were conferred. He was accompanied by ex-President Timothy Dwight of Yale, both gentlemen appearing in cap and gown.

FORTY SHARES OF RAILROAD STOCK HAVE BEEN TAKEN

Chamber of Commerce Railroad Committee
Sawing Wood And Saying Nothing—Hope
To Organize Greensboro And Roxboro Railroad Company Soon

Regarding the proposed new railroad from Greensboro to Roxboro the Chamber of Commerce railroad committee is sawing wood without making the least fuss and was really preparing to slip up on the blind side of many Greensboro people with the announcement that the company had been organized and the required $10,000 subscribed.

A reporter called at the office of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday and questioned Secretary McLean regarding the proposition. Mr. McLean stated that the committee is now at work soliciting subscriptions. Already forty shares have been subscribed, the value of each share being $100. Mr. McLean secured subscriptions to several shares yesterday. He states that with two exceptions every person approached have taken one or more shares and these will probably do so later. He believes that the committee will experience no difficulty in securing the 100 shares to be had before the company can organize for the preliminary survey.

Capt. J. W. Fry, chairman of the railroad committee, sent some time last week in Baltimore and Philadelphia and discussed the proposition with a number of capitalists. He did not go with the view of securing subscriptions but merely to interest them in the project and give some information regarding the proposed road. The committee hopes to secure the $10,000 necessary to perfect an organization and carry on the preliminary survey.

Washington, July 6.—Postmaster General Hitchcock today announced the designation of fifteen new postal savings banks. Among the number are banks to be established at Monroe, N. C.; Chester, S. C.; Lexington and Winchester, Va.

Washington, July 6.—Senator and Mrs. Lea left for Deer Park, Maryland, today, for a complete rest after their experiences in Georgetown hospital. Both are much improved. Mrs. Lea, who suffered from loss of blood, will go to Denver for a brief visit.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—Senator and Mrs. Luke Lea left for Deer Park, Maryland, today, for a complete rest after their experiences in Georgetown hospital. Both are much improved. Mrs. Lea, who suffered from loss of blood, will go to Denver for a brief visit.

A glance at the country through which the proposed road passes shows that there is a larger population per mile than was the case in the country through which the Cape Fear road passed at the time it was built. Then the country is much richer and the road will yield much larger returns on the investment.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—Samuel Hawken, attorney in Washington.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 6.—Samuel Hawken was today appointed assistant district attorney, succeeding Charles H. Turner. He was born in Williamsport, Md., and for the last several years has been clerk in the federal court here.

It is hoped to have the company organized, the preliminary survey made and the right of way secured before the winter months and get everything in shape to begin the construction of the road early next year.

TAFT FAVORS PARCELS POST.

The discussion of the parcels post and express rates has brought forth the announcement that President Taft favors the carrying of packages by the government mail service and that he will recommend the establishment of the parcels post and its adoption in his annual message to Congress. The Philadelphia Record believes this announcement will be hailed with enthusiasm in all parts of the country, and says further:

"For many years the parcels delivery at the hands of the express companies has been a means of systematized plundering. It is estimated that they collect yearly not less than $50,000,000 over and above a fair remuneration for the service rendered. The Postoffice Department has ready to hand in the rural free delivery system the instrumentation for taking over the express business. The carriage of 11-pound packages at 8-cent rates is highly remunerative in other countries. There is no reason to think it would prove less remunerative in the United States. The great volume of profitable short-haul business in populous districts would more than make up any loss on long-haul traffic, and possibly so enlarge the revenue as to bring on one-cent letter rates. President Taft has shown courage in putting himself in the lead of the fight for the parcels post. It is another break away from tariff delivery."

WOMEN OF PARIS ARE DRESS MAD.

Charles C. Kurzman, a New Yorker, whose specialty is designing gowns for women of fashion, on his return to this country from the French capital, says the French women are dress mad. He believes they are more extravagant than the ultra-fashionable women of the United States. They change their attire from eight to ten times each day; their dresses cost an average of $250 each; and each gown is generally discarded after not more than a week's wear. The expense of dressing at this pace is evident. Apparently, the New Yorker does not approve of the course of the fashionable French women, and he does not recommend that the women of this country attempt to follow this pace.

There are many women in America, however, who are going far in their folly upon the path being traveled by the women of Paris; and the disastrous results to the country are already noted. The results of such living are disastrous to individuals and to the people collectively. The extravagance of this nation is a subject of much comment and of some alarm among citizens who desire to see the Republic at its best perpetuated and preserved intact as the home of the future generations. The mere waste of money by the ultra-fashionable is one of the least of the evils of such living. The immorality, the weakening of character, the bad influence exerted in the circles of the idle and extravagant rich do much more injury to the stability of society in general than the wrong example afforded by unwarranted and unnecessary expenditures of money. The influence permeates other classes of people and has a tendency to undermine the very foundations of the nation. This is one of the greatest evils existing in this country today, and one which demands the thoughtful consideration of all who are interested in the country's welfare.

Congress is now playing the return engagement of the extra session.

Raleigh's auditorium gives that city a pull in securing conventions. The dentists meet in Raleigh next year.

The Fourth of July is not a holiday for the baseball players. Even the Winston team could not be induced to take a day off.

Greenville Piedmont observes that it is a long time until Thanksgiving Day. Well, go to sleep again and the time will pass unnoticed.

News of hail storms in Alabama should be suppressed. It is likely to cause an exodus of population from many other States and a wild stampede to Alabama.

Mrs. Chip of Chicago, who is alleged to be the most systematically kissed and most kissed woman in America, is not a chip off the Damier matrimonial block.

The determination of that Democratic Congress is splendidly illustrated by the fact that it went to work again on July 5th, despite the heat and the previous day's celebrating.

Says the Atlanta Journal: "It was almost a fireworkless Fourth." It was altogether a workless Fourth up this way. When North Carolinians celebrate they leave off work.

The country will be astonished to hear that soft drinks are becoming popular in New York. Is it possible that New Yorkers have dissipated until they find it necessary to resort to soft drinks?

Alabama reports a hailstorm on July Fourth. This is the first instance recorded when Alabama's celebrating made it necessary to call for the assistance of the Weather Man in keeping the temperature below the danger point.

Senator Bob Taylor of Tennessee approves of Champ Clark as the Democratic candidate for President. Champ Clark is not a joke, but Bob Taylor is, and it is highly amusing to find lots of people taking the Tennessee's endorsement of Clark seriously.

An exchange says the water supply is short in Charlotte. It is rumored, also, that the supply of near and nearer beer is limited since the new law became effective. These troubles, coupled with the drought and hot weather are enough to discourage Charlotte.

Somebody is attempting to start a presidential boom for Senator F. G. Newlands of Nevada. Senator Newlands has escaped Mr. Bryan's notice. Will the Richmond Times-Dispatch be kind enough to ascertain if the Commoner is willing to O. K. the candidacy of Newlands.

Champ Clark had a contract with a lecture bureau at $1,000 per week, his season to begin July 1st, and because of the fact that Congress is still in session the Speaker cannot fill this engagement. Champ is paying a big price for the glory of the Speakership. If, however, it leads to the Presidency, he will receive some compensation.

The long continued campaign for a safe Fourth of July produced fruit this year. The results are gratifying to those who have prolonged the fight for this purpose. If the campaign is continued there is reason to believe that the Fourth may be celebrated in the future with a small percentage of accidents as can be expected when great crowds of people are assembled throughout the country.

Louisiana has six candidates for one United States Senatorship. North Carolina cannot yet point with pride to so many Senatorial candidates, but it is said that it would not be difficult to increase the number in this State from four to six. There are those who think that a little encouragement would induce Gen. Julian S. Carr to enter the contest, and there ought to be at least one other distinguished citizen of the State willing to answer the call of his fellow citizens in this hour of peril.

"Who will defeat Bleuse?" asks the Spartanburg Herald. Well, the newspapers of South Carolina did not do it when he was a candidate the first time, and the indications are that they will not be able to do it the next time unless they can secure the assistance of an able candidate to oppose the Governor. It is undoubtedly disgraceful for South Carolina to have Bleuse in the office of Governor, but a majority of the voters of the State are, apparently, satisfied and ready to vote for him again. Too many of the people of South Carolina are unwilling to give up their liquor, therefore, they vote the way the liquor trust points out for them. The result of this sort of thing at the last election was Bleuse.

Greensboro.

The editor of the Enterprise had the pleasure of going well over our neighboring city of Greensboro yesterday afternoon and we want to congratulate the citizens there on the evidences of public spirit and philanthropy. They are building well for the present as well as for the future, leaving for themselves testimonials to the coming generation. The parks, sanatoriums, hospitals, public libraries, churches, business organizations and beautiful homes stand out prominently, placing the town in the front rank of Southern towns. The men who are doing these things are leaving the very best legacy to their children and to the community in which their families grew up.—High Point Enterprise.

Dr. Dodd Roasts Them.

The country has so long been hearing professors in Chicago University apologizing for monopoly, lauding the new era of combination, and inferentially putting a halo on John D. Rockefeller, who gave many millions of dollars to establish and endow that institution that the spectacle of a professor in the Chicago University denouncing monopoly, roasting John D.

denouncing Thomas F. Ryan and J. P. Morgan, almost took away the breath of Virginians who had never thought that a professor from that University would talk so freely. He is reported by a correspondent of the Baltimore Sun to have said, speaking to Virginians:

"Do you know that Thomas F. Ryan controls your newspapers; that the Pennsylvania Railroad controls every big road in Virginia, and that J. P. Morgan controls the Pennsylvania?"

"One of these men pays your Virginia machine's expenses and he was long a member of its executive committee, once going so far as to provide a private car for the Virginia delegates to the St. Louis convention. These delegates voted joyously for the nomination of Alton B. Parker, an ally of Ryan. The same Ryan did the same sort of service for the Republican party in North Carolina the same year in order to have been in the Republican National convention who would vote against Roosevelt."

"I am a college man, connected with a great, conserving institution built by a man whose life has not been honorable nor creditable, and you may think that I and other college men are not really democratic, but I want to tell you that the strongest democratic force in Chicago is the faculty of the university. They do not believe in monopoly, they do not believe in the trusts any more than you do and they vote in Chicago for honest men and Democrats."

Dr. Dodd may not be countering decapitation, but if he talks that way he will be dangerously near losing his professional head unless—unless the founder of the Chicago University thinks it will be better to let one Southern man speak his mind freely so it can be claimed that academic liberty prevails there. The regular trust method is to permit a few small independent plants to exist so the trust can "point with pride" to them as proof that the trust does not monopolize all the trade.

But Dr. Dodd is a North Carolinian—one of Bancroft's "freest of the free" and before he would permit himself to be muzzled, he would return to the farm. That's the true North Carolina spirit.—Richmond News and Observer.

MANY WANT POSTAL BONDS.

Applications for $4,000 Worth Have Been Made.

Washington, July 6.—Postmaster General Hitchcock announced today that applications from depositors to purchase postal savings bonds on July 1 aggregated $42,000. Of this sum, more than $35,000 worth were applied for in registered form, indicating the intention of depositors to retain the bonds as an investment. Fifty additional second class offices were designated today by the Postmaster General as postal depository.

They will be ready to receive deposits on July 29.

GREAT CAISSON SUCCESS.

It Has Met Every Expectation of the Builders.

Washington, July 6.—The great caisson built around the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor has met every expectation of its designers, in the opinion of General Bixby, chief of engineers, who has just returned from a personal inspection of the work.

The officer explained the delays in the work on the ground that it was necessary that the wreck be exposed by easy stages. More time than had been expected was expended after the first pumping in clearing away debris and mud, he added.

SUSPEND RULES FOR TOGO.

Japanese Hero May See All of Naval Establishment.

Washington, July 6.—The Japanese naval hero, Admiral Togo, hero of the battle of the Sea of Japan, will have no difficulty in viewing everything he cares to see in the New York navy yard, or indeed in any part of the naval establishment.

Although a regulation of long standing prohibits the exhibition to foreign visitors of any of the construction in the Navy yards, this will be gladly suspended by the Navy Department for the benefit of Admiral Togo. It is expected he will board the giant battleship Florida, now nearing completion, in the New York navy yard.

Details of the program for the admiral's entertainment have not yet been completed, but when he arrives in New York about August 8, he will be received as the guest of the nation by a number of distinguished officials and army and navy officers.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS NEARLY FOUR MILLION STRONG

World Increase More Than One Million In Two Years And More Than Ten Thousand New Societies Organized—Biennial Report Of General Secretary

Special to Telegram.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 6.—At the International Convention of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, which began its sessions here today, one of the most important and interesting features was the biennial report of General Secretary William Shaw, which was read at this evening's session. The report shows the remarkable growth of this organization during the past two years and briefly outlines the work which has been accomplished. In part the report was made as follows:

Secretary Shaw's Report.

Two years ago, at the St. Paul Convention, President Clark challenged our Christian Endeavor host with the proposition that we start a two years' Increase Campaign for ten thousand new societies and one million new members. The first impression was that the task was impossible, but after a gasp of surprise the very magnitude of it appealed to the imagination of the young people, and with a cheer, from the North and the South, from the East and the West, they threw themselves into the campaign with the daring and enthusiasm of youth led by our splendid corps of field secretaries and union officers.

We are here tonight to announce that

We Have Arrived,

that the task is completed, and more.

Since July, 1909, there have been reported to the United Society by national, State, Provincial, and denominational unions 10,345 new societies of Christian Endeavor, and in these and in the societies already organized 1,002,500 new members, and the remarkable thing about these reports is that over 7,000 are young people's societies.

The honor roll of the States that secured their full apportionment or more is as follows: California, District of Columbia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Nebraska, Texas, Virginia.

The list of States organizing one hundred or more new societies during the campaign includes California, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Texas.

That more than 1,000,000 missionary meetings have been held, with an attendance of 50,000,000;

That 500,000 temperance meetings have been held, with an attendance of 20,000,000;

That more than 500,000 socials have been held, when genuine good times have been substituted for questionable amusements;

That more than 100 State and more than 10,000 district, county, and local union conventions have been held;

That millions of bouquets of flowers have brightened the pulpits of our churches, and have carried the spirit of the Christ in their fragrant blossoms as they have been taken to the sick and shut-ins of the congregation;

That tens of thousands of young people have been learning how to win others to Christ by their service on the lookout committees;

That the political mission of the South should be to stand for the right of local self-government. To maintain this faith of the fathers this testimony of the Anglo-Saxon race since the beginning of its history to the freedom of the individual to govern himself, his family, his town, and his State—is this the mission of the South in the nation.

"At the same time it is evident that the South has now passed from the discussion of State rights and constitutional powers to the consideration of State needs and State duties. Education and sanitation are now the chief subjects of consideration in our Legislatures and the 'color line' and the 'bloody shirt' are being forgotten.

"The full recognition by all the people of the doctrine that the chief business of a democratic State is to educate all its children at the common cost, that the 'common wealth' should be devoted, first of all, to the training of the children—this has been the great lesson of these years. That it is our moral, as well as our economic, duty to educate all the children to the limit of their possibilities is now universally held by Southerners.

"Great advance has been made in providing both State and county support for the schools, with the result that for the year 1911 the current expenditures for public education in the Southern States were three and a half times as much as they were in 1901; the value of school property in three and a half times as much; and the appropriations for State universities and other State institutions of higher learning are twice as much. High school facilities in the cities and towns have more than doubled in value; in villages and rural districts they have quadrupled. The average length of school terms, which was only 90 days in the rural districts in 1901 has increased to 150 and in some States to 160 days. The average monthly salaries of teachers in the rural districts have increased from 50 to 75 per cent and the salaries of county superintendents from 50 to 100 per cent. Half of the States have organized, for the first time, courses of study for the elementary schools. Georgia has established eleven agricultural schools; Alabama, nine; Arkansas, four; and Virginia, twelve county industrial and agricultural schools, and North Carolina is starting this year ten 'farm life' schools. Six States have established systems of county high schools."

An election was ordered to be held on the fifth day of August on the question of the establishment of a farm life school in Cumberland county, the county board of commissioners having petitioned the board to call such an election.

During all these years of demonstration Christian Endeavor has not only given literally millions of dollars through the missionary, and benevolent channels of its own churches, but it has paid its own bills. For more than twenty years the United Society has carried on its work from the profits of its publication department, without receiving contributions from either societies or churches.

Of the $200,000 needed for the International Headquarters Building, $155,021.15 has been secured in cash and pledges. Building banks have been distributed which should yield $20,000 more, leaving a balance of $25,000 that should be raised at this Convention, so that Christian Endeavor can start on its

"Kill More Than Wild Beasts."

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system.

That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back, if not satisfied. Only 50¢ at Fariss Klutz Drug Co.

MASONIC PICNIC.

Thirty-Third Annual Outing at Clement Grove, Mocksville.

Mocksville, July 6.—The thirty-third annual picnic at Clement Grove, Mocksville, will be held Thursday, August 10. It will be conducted as usual in the interest of the Oxford 'Orphan Asylum.'

The annual address will be delivered by ex-Governor Charles B. Aycock. There will be music by the Winston Cornet Band and exercises by a band of orphans.

He (tired of dodging)—Would you marry a one-eyed man?

She—Good gracious, no!

He—Then let me carry your umbrella.

Canvassing for Shaw & Co.

By Bryant C. Rogers

curry, and my husband did. In fact, the last one said I'd better buy hogs with the money."

A week passed and neither the widow nor the widower had taken an order. Then the widow came driving over to Grafton and to the deacon's place of business. When she had got seated she said:

"Mr. Carter, I've been thinking over your case, and I think it's an awful shame the way you have neglected your wife's grave. You couldn't have loved her."

"And did you love them two husbands of yours?" he retorted.

"My case is different. If you'd only give me an order to show around I could get a start and make some money."

"But why don't you give me an order?"

"Deacon, your wife is lying up there, probably grieving at your neglect, and you are here buying butter and eggs? What do you think the people around you are saying?"

"How is it over in Medina, in your case?"

The widow said she didn't want to say right out that the deacon choked his wife to death to get rid of her, but she was a woman who had suspicions, and when those suspicions were aroused it took a great deal to lull them. That was her fling as she left for home, and the deacon wasn't quick enough to answer that he had heard of wives using slow poison.

In the course of another week he drove over to Medina again. He interviewed two or three persons on the tombstone business, and then brought up at the Widow Lee's.

"I was sort of expecting you," she said in greeting. "I've talked with several people about you, and they say you are a man to give a widow a fair chance. Have you come over to give me an order?"

"Not exactly. I just wanted to drive past the graveyard."

"I see. Wanted to be sure that both of mine were there yet? Well, I hope you feel better."

"Widow, it don't seem to me that you appreciated them two husbands."

"Don't it? Then let me tell you that in both cases there was a circus in town within a month after their death and I never went. How about an order for your dead wife?"

Driving slowly home that day the deacon mused to himself:

"Pretty bright widow! House and lot! House as neat as a pin! Seems like good worker! I hadn't thought of marrying again, but—"

And when he had departed from her house the widow mused to herself:

"Well, maybe he thought a heap of his wife, after all. Seems to be a good man. He's had one and I've had two, but a man needs a wife and a woman needs a husband. If we were both out of the tombstone business—"

Ten days passed, and again the deacon drove up to the widow's gate. He had a letter from Chicago saying that he was no hustler, and that his book samples should be turned over to another canvasser.

"I've got a letter reading just the same," said the widow when he handed her his. "Deacon, if you'd only given me an order."

"Or if you'd given me one."

"Well, I'm ashamed that I said I had suspicions of you."

"That's all right. If I ever hinted that your husband died on purpose to get a long rest I beg pardon."

"And as I'm going to have a boiled dinner today I'll invite you to stay."

"With pleasure, widow."

The deacon drove home by moonlight that night, and on the way he kept saying to himself and smiling:

"She'll be number two and I'll be number three, but what Providence brings about nobody should kick over. Um! I wouldn't have believed that any human being could cook such a boiled dinner as that."

The Widow Lee listened to a great deal of talk and was at last convinced. She owned an old horse and buggy, and was therefore prepared to make trips around the country. She was left a book of cuts and prices, given some business pointers, and the man from Shaw & Co. passed on to bring up in Grafton, eight miles away.

There he found Deacon Carter, who bought eggs and butter for shipment. He gave him just the same talk as he had the widow, and the deacon agreed to try canvassing for a month and see how it went. He was supplied with a list of twelve widows who had buried one or two husbands each, and the name of the Widow Lee headed it.

The deacon had to go over to Medina on business next day anyway, and he planned to call on the widow. When he arrived he found her getting ready to set out with horse and buggy to take her first order. He had been told not to be too harsh in introducing his subject, and he therefore talked about the weather and other things for awhile before saying:

"Widow, may I inquire, if you have yet marked the graves wherein your two husbands repose?"

"There's a shingle sticking up, but nothing more. I was told not to be in a hurry about the stones. Seems to me you look like a widow?"

"Yes, I am one."

"Wife been dead long?"

"Seven or eight years."

"Any tombstones yet?"

"No-o."

"I heard you hadn't, and I was just going to drive over to see you about it. I'm taking orders for tombstones."

"But—so am I! I heard about your two husbands, and I am here to get orders for both. Date of birth and death, please."

"Date of nothing, sir. You've got cheek to come here when the grave of your wife is neglected!"

"But you were coming to see me about the same thing."

"Well, you can get along with you. Your wife didn't tell you there was no

DUCKS ON DRY LAND

THOUSANDS OF THEM GET WATER ONLY FOR DRINKING.

How the Indian Runners Are Raised for the Market in New Jersey—
Some Lay Two Eggs a Day.

Raising ducks on dry land reads to the layman very much like running a locomotive without steam, and yet ducks—Indian Runner ducks, the Leghorns of the duck family—are raised generation after generation with only the water they drink and what little is contained in their food.

On a plot of ground two and one-half acres in extent, not all of which is utilized for the purpose, Joseph W. Scull, at Vineland, N. J., carries 450 Indian Runner ducks in ten houses with large runs. This is the fourth year of Mr. Scull's experiences with ducks—previously he raised chickens for eleven years—and he unhesitatingly recommends Indian Runners in preference to chickens.

Beginning with four females and one male, artificial incubation and brooding produced this flock in the time stated, and a hardy, handsome flock it is, according to Country Life in America. The eggs are fine eating, being larger and richer than hen's eggs.

With the Indian Runner duck we find some peculiar conditions, so peculiar as to be almost beyond belief. Kept in confinement, forced with food for egg production, some ducks, or possibly every duck, will lay two eggs, usually the second day.

"Not exactly. I just wanted to drive past the graveyard."

"I see. Wanted to be sure that both of mine were there yet! Well, I hope you feel better."

"Widow, it don't seem to me that you appreciated them two husbands."

"Don't it? Then let me tell you that in both cases there was a circus in town within a month after their death and I never went. How about an order for your dead wife?"

Charlotte-Greensboro, Etc., to Rich- mond, Va., and Return, July 18-20, 1911.

The Southern will operate one of the most popular excursions of the season, leaving Charlotte at 8:00 p. m. and Greensboro 11:30 p. m., July 18, to Richmond, Va., and return at the very low rate of $3.65. Tickets will be good returning on any regular train leaving Richmond up to and including Thursday, July 20th, 1911. This allowing two days and one night in the beautiful city of Richmond, affording ample time to visit West Point and many other attractions.

For any other information regarding rates and Pullman accommodations see nearest agent or write W. H. McGlamery, Passenger and Ticket Agent, Greensboro, N. C. R. H. DeButts, 7-1-tf.

Next in order came the informal speeches, the new president, Speight Hunter, acting as toasting master. Pastor Ogburn, Messrs. Stone, Wills, Hunter, G. O. and H. L. Coble, each spoke a few words of encouragement and appreciation. When it came to "Pat" Kelly's turn, he had a silent retreat to the tall timber. But when the scent of fresh-cut watermelons rolled up the grassy slopes and filled the woods with the delicious aroma, he quickly came from his concealment, and with the humility of the prodigal son of old, consented to make his speech.

A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered T. A. Hunter, R. B. Glenn, G. O. Coble, J. M. Millikan, and H. L. Coble, whose kindness in placing their machines at the disposal of the Class made this outing a success. And the jolly crowd returned, feeling benefited in every way by the evening's association and enjoyment.

indications are for cloudy and unsettled weather in Texas and Oklahoma, more rain principally in the eastern two-thirds of these States. Prospects for rain in the western third are not so good but may develop over night. A cool wave may come on Oklahoma, north Texas and Arkansas causing rain there and also in the grain States. Unsettled, showery weather will continue in the central States and will also reappear in the Appalachians. Correspondence from the interior is beginning to manifest some concern over the continued rains in Mississippi and Louisiana on account of interruption to work and increased activity of the boll weevil.

The market declined about 20 points around the opening but at 13.10 for October very substantial buying appeared and held prices until detailed rain records were published. These showed more general rain over night in the west and further liquidation followed, causing new crops to drop to around 13c.

Private dispatches from Texas this morning indicate pretty general rain today in central and north Texas.

Automobile Trip and Outing.

The Baraca, Class of Grace M. P. church enjoyed a very pleasant automobile ride and picnic supper last night. At five o'clock they gathered at the church, twenty-five strong, and thence proceeded to the Battle Ground. Each man had his box under his arm, and entered into the spirit of the occasion with all the zest and enthusiasm of a school boy.

It might have been due to the exhilarating effect of the fresh country air; or possibly if was the intoxicating influence of those classic groves and patriotic slopes. However, that may be under the influence of some magic charm, business men in the prime of life forgot the cares of life, and the tangled maze of commercialism, and rejoiced again the freshness and buoyancy of youth.

They procured some horse-shoes, and for time indulged in the boyhood sport of pitching horse-shoes. And for excitement and clamor, that fourth of July ball game would have hid its face in shame.

About this time, J. Norman Wills announced supper, and for once no one began with one accord to make excuses, and after that crowd had done all they wanted to the "rations," the lame, the half and the blind would have stood little show. There were no gentle female hands to put on the finishing touches, and add the frills and fancies known only to the gentler sex; but no one stood back on mere technicalities, and even such stern and stately gentlemen as T. A. Hunter, J. N. Wills and J. M. Stone forgot to maintain their wonted dignity, and ate with a relish that would have filled their good wives, had they been present, with wonder and alarm.

Next in order came the informal speeches, the new president, Speight Hunter, acting as toasting master. Pastor Ogburn, Messrs. Stone, Wills, Hunter, G. O. and H. L. Coble, each spoke a few words of encouragement and appreciation. When it came to "Pat" Kelly's turn, he had a silent retreat to the tall timber. # DO NOT TELL IT ALL

BEING SILENT NECESSARY TO SUCCESSFUL CLIMBING.

Girl Who Submits Her Plans and Aims Her Feelings to Acquaintances Displays Sure Signs of Mediocrity.

The girl who submits all her little plans to her next door friend, and air all her inmost feelings to her newest acquaintance, and who never undertakes anything but that she asks for advice in a dozen different places we seldom include in our list of climbers.

The girl climber, like her brother, is generally sufficient unto herself when it comes to ideas, convictions and confidence. She never goes around "fusing" with emotion because she is afraid—fear—goes to the wall, or this, or that, or the other thing might turn topsy turvy, and what's your opinion, please? Don't you think so, too? What would you do if you were in my place?

The strong, capable, brainy girl will never pose as the one who wants advice and assistance. She would think it a confession of weakness. Nor does she boast of what she can do before she can show what she would boast of.

Wearing your heart on your sleeve and your head in that state of carelessness abandon where it will let out most anything just for the joy of wriggling your tongue is a sure sign of hopeless mediocrity.

As Clyde Fitch noted, you can always see a certain admirable silence about the real climber.

Who hasn't heard of that railroad president who was known as the silent one, and who believed, and proved, that in private plans and personal enterprises silence is not only important, but often, if success is at stake, absolutely essential?

The arguments in favor of silence in your personal affairs are generally these:

If no one knows your plans when they can laugh in his sleeve when they fall to pieces.

If you are not given to crow about what you can do failure won't come half as hard as when everybody can wink and grin about it.

If you want no one's advice but your own you may be saved much self-reproach.

The mind doctors insist that silence along pretty comfortably with medals, anchors, and other emblems of the sea printed on his arms, but heathen gods and goddesses afflict his conscience sorely. In some cases of tattooing there is a repeated application of tannin that will remove the marks, but that is not always effective, and many a sincere Christian has to go through life with the picture of a heathen idol on his forearm.

The average convert can worry along pretty comfortably with medals, anchors, and other emblems of the sea printed on his arms, but heathen gods and goddesses afflict his conscience sorely. ## NORTH STATE CAPITAL NEWS

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, July 6.—Mr. Litzan, government architect, is in the city conferring with Judge Connor and Federal court and other government officers in having offices in the government building with a view to preparing the plans for the proposed $250,000 addition to the government building here, provision for which in the way of an appropriation has already been made by Congress. There are several plans proposed for the enlargement. One is to add two or more stories to the present three story structure and the other is to add a wing on the rear to extend toward Salisburys street and face the present courtyard.

The West Bend Manufacturing Co., of Craggy, Buncombe county, was chartered today with $10,000 capital for making brick, quarrying stone, operating lumber plants, furniture factory and other purposes. Theo F. Davidson, Haywood Parker and Louis M. Borune are the incorporators.

Governor Kitchin today honored a requisition from the governor of South Carolina for George McMaynus, wanted in Chester county, S. C., for abduction. He is now in jail at Charlotte being held for the South Carolina authorities.

The State Geological Board was in session today with Frank Hewitt, Asheville; Dr. M. R. Brazwell, of Nash county; Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt and C. S. Van, here for the meeting. Dr. Brazwell has succeeded Mr. Van as commissioner, the latter resigning to become fish commissioner. The board determined to renew and greatly quicken effort for the unification of the fishing interests in this state, a decision being reached to hold a convention for fishermen some time in the fall.

Who is Your Favorite Baseball Player?

Do You Know His Complete Record?

Gainor, Tigers' New First Sacker

Besides Grabbing All Pegs and Hits Coming His Way, He Is Batting Like a Streak

You can have his complete record up to and including the 1910 playing season and the records of all other players in any of the organized leagues. All you have to do is to procure a copy of "Facts for Fans," which you can only get from the Greensboro Telegram. Elsewhere in this paper you will find a coupon which when properly filled out, together with 11 other coupons will entitle you to one copy of "Facts for Fans," giving a complete record of all baseball happenings, rules, individual averages, team averages, and most any other information you may desire.

What You Have to Do:

Begin with today's coupon and save one each day until you have 12 consecutive numbers. Present these at the office or mail them in (when mailing send two cent stamp for postage), or for ONE NEW SUBSCRIBER AND ONE COUPON you may have one of these little books full of interesting information.

If you don't want to take the trouble to save 12 of the coupons, bring in a new subscriber somebody who is not now taking the paper, and one coupon. We don't require that you bring in any money for the subscription but if the subscriber will pay you in advance we will allow you, in addition to the copy of "Facts For Fans", a commission of 10 per cent. on the amount paid. You will find the subscription price on page 2.

END OF SESSION IS NOT IN SIGHT

Possibility That Congress Will Work Until Winter.

MAY BE SENATE COMPROMISE.

Crane and Smith Are Striving Valiantly to Establish Peace, but Their Efforts Are Opposed by Men Leading Various Factions, and Allaying Storm Is Not An Easy Task.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 6.—(Special)—Many congressional prognosticators fixed the end of the fiscal year as the probable date of adjournment when the present extra session was called. Looking at the prospects as the new fiscal year is about to begin, it would not be strange to see three or four months of the present session.

And yet a few days before the wool bill reached the senate there seemed to be prospects that the debate on the reciprocity measure might collapse and congress melt away as snow under the summer sun. But the outlook now is for a merry, merry time, and no one can predict a probable adjournment.

Unless the spirit of compromise, which has often prevailed in the senate, shall be invoked soon there will be a protracted session, and perhaps those predictions about remaining "until snow flies" will be fulfilled.

W. Murray and John Walter.

The busy men, the compromisers, so to speak, upon whom frail hope now depends are W. Murray Crane and John Walker Smith. Massachusetts and Maryland are expected to unravel the tangled skein. Crane is often seen ambling about the senate, going from man to man with a few words to each, and is supposed to have imparted some important information.

He will disappear into the Republican cloakroom, and Smith will make a tour of the senate. A little later Crane's head will appear at the Republican cloakroom door, and Smith will leave the Democratic side, and the two will be seen no more for half an hour. They have been in conference, and great questions of senate procedure have been under discussion, and presumably everything has been fixed.

Meanwhile, however, the Penrose, Gallingers, Heyburns and other impetuous regulars; the La Follettes, the Claps, Cummins and Bristows of the insurgents; the Dixons, the Nelsons and other near insurgents; the Culbersons, the Gores, the Williamses and other Democrats have been raising a storm in the senate which completely upsets all plans of the two smooth men who would fix up everything and prevent these unseemly senatorial rows and ructions. But if there is peace the dove will be in charge of W. Murray and John Walter.

One of Champ's Wants.

In a discussion of the wool bill Speaker Clark had a colloquy with Congressman Payne, and the New Yorker reminded Clark that the duty was taken off hides for the purpose of reducing the price of shoes, but there was no reduction.

"Both of us helped to take the duty off hides," said Champ, "and the promise was made that shoes would go down 25 or 50 cents a pair. I would like to get hold of that crowd that came down here and promised that."

"I am sorry that the gentleman was fooled," said Payne consolingly. "They did not fool me, for I did not believe a word of it."

It Does Look Odd.

Senator Heyburn of Idaho declared that the bill to prevent campaign contributions and great expenditures for the election of senators and members of the house was in fact a confession that these men were setting a watch over themselves, passing a law to prevent themselves from becoming criminals. Put in that way, it did sound odd.

The real facts are that the intention of the proposed law is to prevent a comparatively few men from buying their way into the senate, and into the house. The large and honest majority seek a method to prevent a dishonest minority from gaining legislative power by corrupt means or the lavish use of money in what is claimed to be a legitimate manner.

An Elkins Adage.

"I am afraid President Taft and the Republicans have not needed that old adage of the late Senator Elkins," remarked a Republican after the hot tariff fight last week.

Elkins always said, "Don't scratch up more snakes than you can kill." The impression is that there will not be time enough to kill all the "snakes" of the present session.

"Elkins learned that adage while living in New Mexico," remarked a man who overheard the conversation.

Stenographers Remain.

Although many experienced and valuable employees have given place to new men in the house by reason of the change of political parties, there has been and will be no change in the stenographers. These men are selected by the speaker when there are vacancies, and none is removed.

The official reporters become very expert, and even political patronage cannot effect changes in the corps.

WALSH TAUGHT LANGFORD HOW

Boston Bantam Developed "Tar Baby" From Janitor to Fighter.

SAM TOOK MANY WHIPPINGS.

At the Start He Was an Easy Mark For Walsh, but Improved Rapidly and is Now One of World's Best Pugilists.

Back in 1902 Sam Langford, the colored heavyweight of Boston, now the most feared battler in the world outside Jack Johnson, used to get beaten up every day by a little mite of a man who weighed less than 115 pounds. Samuel was then a lightweight. Wasn't back upon."

NEW BALL CHANGED PITCHING

Strike Out Twirler Only One Who Is Now Successful.

The strikeout pitchers continue to be the winners, and they are the only boys who can make good with the lively ball. Amos Rusie, who was in the game again, would be a king, for Amos always threw for the third strike and barreled a lot of them. So did Tim Keefe, who maintained that you were pretty sure of your man when he missed three and there was a reliable catcher. If he hit it somebody might wobble in the field, so it was safest to collect the guys on strikes. John Clarkson, per contra, always worked for his field, and John would get the stuffing beat out of him this summer.

The heady pitcher who lays them over and trusts to his support is up a tree this year. Somebody is always apt to whack one too hard for the support to get under it. It takes a man who fans them to win, because when they fan they don't even advance any one who may be on the bases.

Young Alexander leads them all in winning games, and he also leads them all in fanning batters. Keefe of the Reds, who has the best showing so far, has struck out something like thirty-seven folks in seven full games, and time after time those strikeouts have saved his bacon.

WELLS MAY MEET JOHNSON.

English Heavyweight Likely to Be Given Chance With Champion.

Promoter Hugh McIntosh is making every effort to bring Jack Johnson and Bombardier Wells, the English heavyweight champion, together in a twenty round bout to be held in London or Paris the latter part of July. As follows:

SAM LANGFORD AND THE BOY WHO TAUGHT HIM HOW TO FIGHT.

that an auspicious beginning for such a fighter as the "Tar Baby" has come to be?

Jimmy Walsh, ex-bantam champion, related the story recently. Jimmy was the boy who used to dispense the wallopings to Langford. "I used to give him a lot of them, believe me," he said. "Sam was just an awkward fellow and didn't know a thing about fighting, and I was fairly clever then."

"Sam was working as a janitor around the gymnasium in Boston. He got the notion he wanted to be a fighter. So he went to Eddie Keefe and told him about it. Eddie assured him he could put the gloves on with me. The first afternoon I showed him all the fireworks a pair of mitts can produce. But Sam was game and watched the sparks with fearless men. After that he stopped everything for several months, but kept doggedly to his task. I used to show him tricks, how to hit, how to feint and how to get inside of punches. In the end he was able to handle himself pretty well."

"About this time they had an amateur tournament in Boston, and Sam entered it. He won from Jack McVicker in three rounds. After this he began his professional career and beat Joe Gans two years afterward, but received no credit for it. He began to grow the next year and went to fighting welterweights. Now he is more than a middleweight and the best man in the game outside of Johnson."

EARL MOORE'S FIRST SALARY

Phillies' Twirler at One Time Glad to Get $8 a Week.

This is the story told of the entry into baseball of Earl Moore, the clever pitcher of the Philadelphia Nationals. Will Armour was then part owner and manager of the Dayton team in the old Interstate league. One day a friend told him of a boy who was burning up things on the lot back of the roundhouse in Columbus. Armour went to the Ohio capital and took a peep. He liked Moore and his style and promptly made him an offer to pitch for Dayton at the munificent salary of $8 per week.

That looked big to Earl, and he signed. Two or three weeks later he went to Armour and said, "Mr. Armour, when I signed for $8 a week I was under the impression that you would pay my board while the team was at home." Armour smiled inwardly and replied, "All right, Earl; I'll increase your salary to $12 a week." This was highly satisfactory to the young man. Two years later he was flinging them over for Cleveland for $3,500 for the season.

Wolgast Roasts "Knockout" Brown. Ad Wolgast is disparaging "Knockout" Brown. "Brown doesn't know the rudiments of boxing," says Wolgast. "He is awkward and green. He is a slugger with a hard wallop, but that lets him out. I got nearly $12,000 for my bouts with him, and it was pretty soft, I can assure you."

Dates For Big Auto Races. The grand prize auto race will be held in Savannah, Ga., Nov. 29 and the Vanderbilt cup on Nov. 28. These dates were chosen recently by the Savannah Automobile club.

Although he may never recover use of his throwing arm, the Boston Americans are carrying Jack Thoney as a substitute base runner.

Candidates for the Harvard 1911 football team will train on an island in Narragansett bay owned by the wife of Head Coach Percy Haughton.

M'GRAW LIKES NERVOUS BALL TOSSERS.

"I like a nervous ball player rather than a cold, indifferent one," says Manager McGraw of the New York Giants.

"The combination is too much for most men, but nervousness is not a drawback. I like athletes with temperament. It is imagination that ultimately leads them to do almost the impossible when the great test comes. It is of especial value in games in which the men come into physical contact, like baseball, football and lacrosse. The first contact with the player of the opposing team usually settles the game right unless the man is hopeless, and after that he has his nerve, not his nerves, to fall back upon."

COULDN'T HEAR SCHOOL BELL

Fascinations of the Bright June Morning Made Boy Deaf to Call of Duty.

A big bumblebee lay helpless upon a plantain leaf under the morning glory vine—a sad example of the effects of too much intoxicating drink. He had imbibed honey freely all the day before and now, past eight o'clock of a bright June morning, when his fellows had been at work for hours, he sprawled, half paralyzed, a shocking sight to busy people.

I took a blade of grass and tickled him gently in his yellow plump region. He raised one leg—he was lying on his side—and waved it toward me in feeble protestation. The gesture spoke plainly. It said: "Lemme alone, can't you? Just wanna have 'lll nap."

A little nap! A little nap, indeed, on that morning when all the garden was rustling and humming and whirling and twittering with life. The robin, who was the father of a hungry family living in the apple tree, was hunting worms on the lawn; the portulaca had been open for half an hour—ever since the sun had touched them; the fat toad who lived near the yellow lilies was awake and looking about with slyly twinkling eyes (he had probably been up all night, too); and the morning glories had been unfolded since daylight. The school bell rang. But I did not hear it. A school bell on such a morning? No, I did not hear it.—The Outlook.

Honest Medicines Versus Fakes.

President Taft's recent message suggesting an amendment to the Pure Food and Drugs law in its relation to Prepared Medicines, does not refer to such standard medicines as Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and Foley's Kidney Pills, both of which are true medicines carefully compounded of ingredients whose medicinal qualities are recognized by the medical profession itself as the best known remedial agents for the diseases they are intended to counteract. For over three decades Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been a standard remedy for coughs, colds and afflictions of the throat, chest, lungs and lungs for children and for grown persons, and it retains to-day its pre-eminence above all other preparations of its kind. Foley Kidney Pills are equally effective and meritorious. Howard Gardner.

COCAINE DEALERS CONVICTED IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Municipal Court yesterday morning again held a busy session with a crowded docket, representing a variety of crimes charged against several defendants, the big majority of whom were negroes.

Having rounded up and punished all the blind tigers in the city and vicinity and having greatly purified the moral atmosphere of some of the most notorious communities in the city by prosecuting several keepers of disreputable and disorderly houses, the police force Wednesday night raided and cleaned up a gang of "dope heads" that they declare are an element of the population that is by far more wicked and lawless than either of the other two classes already punished.

Five of the cocaine dealers faced trial in court yesterday on the charge of selling the evil drug and the gang was annihilated by sentences of six months each on the city streets for four of the negroes and judgment suspended over the fifth.

The step is a progressive one in being waged so effectively by the police for the abolition of the most striking as well as the usual petty crimes in the city.

John Garringer, George Johnson, Monroe Herbin and Charlie Cheek successively answered the charge of selling cocaine with an emphatic "not guilty."

The chief prosecuting witness was a young white man named Lee Hunt who had bought cocaine from each of the defendants and on whose testimony they were convicted.

The young fellow admits that he is somewhat addicted to the use of the drug himself and stated that in aiding the conviction of the negroes he was working for his own good in abolishing the temptation that was always near him from the offerings of the drug merchants.

Besides the testimony of the actual sales, circumstantial evidence was accumulated showing the negroes to be equally guilty and each was given a term of six months to labor on the streets.

Jim Roan, the fifth defendant on the same charge, fought the case, employing Col. John A. Barringer as counsel.

PATRIOTS TOOK DOUBLE HEADER FROM GREENVILLE

Greenville, S. C., July 6.—Greensboro took both of the games from Greenville today, the first by the score of 7 to 2, and the second 1 to 0.

Eldridge was superb in both games and had almost perfect control giving but one base on balls during the fourteen innings. A double, three singles, an error, a pass and a sacrifice gave the Patriots four runs in the fifth.

The second game was by far the prettiest and fastest played. Both pitchers were good and both pitchers had perfect control. A hit batsman, a wild pitch, an infield hit and a sacrifice fly gave the only run of the game to the visitors in the first inning. Some exceptional fielding was done by both teams.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Greensboro ... 201 040 0—7 6 1

Greenville ... 002 000 0—2 1 0

TWINS GOBBLED FIRST TWO GAMES FROM ELECTRICIANS

Winston, July 6.—The Twins captured both ends of the double header this afternoon, the first going by the score of two to one and the latter 17 to 4. The first game went for eight innings, while the latter ended after Anderson had had her time at bat in the fifth, darkness closing a contest of which the fans had already tired.

In the first game things went well until the seventh when a couple of errors by the Twins allowed the Electricians to send a man around the rubber and tie the score. In the eighth an error and a double sent in the winning run.

The second game was a farce, in which the Twins vied with each other in the slugging. Shumaker drove in a homer with two on in the first and O'Halloran circled the bases later in the game.

First game score: R. H. E.
Anderson ... 000 000 0—1 3 1
Winston ... 000 001 0—2 7 3
Batteries—Wolfe and Brannon; Stewart and Bailey.

Second game score: R. H. E.
Anderson ... 130 00—4 6 4
Winston ... 490 4X—17 13 1
Batteries—Wolfe, Younts, Blanton and Clarke; Hartfrandt, Boyle and Edwards and Bailey.

HORNETS TAKE ONE AND SPARTANBURG FORFEITS THE OTHER

Charlotte, July 6.—The Hornets captured the first game of the double header this afternoon, making the only run in the game during their half of the initial inning. After that there was no more scoring. The Musicians got but one hit during the entire contest and Charlotte played errorless ball.

Score: R. H. E.
Charlotte ... 100 000 0—1 6 0
Spartanburg ... 000 000 0—0 1 2

The second game dragged along for six innings, when, with the score standing three to one in the Hornet's favor, Manager Laval withdrew his men from the field because of a decision of the umpire and the game was declared forfeited, this being the first occurrence of the kind during the entire season.

Caleb Hanes Dodged Work.

John Joyce, alias Caleb Hanes, the young white man who was acquitted at the recent term of Guilford county Superior court of the charge of criminally assaulting a young girl at Brown Summit but who was given a sentence of two years on the county roads by Judge Daniels when found guilty of assault, for the past week has been in the county jail feigning sickness. With him were Alexander Chafin, Sr., and two negroes who were really ill when sent in from the roads to rest in confinement. The county physician after several examinations decided that all were fit for road work and the quartet was carried back to their posts of duty yesterday. Joyce stayed in jail for an entire week but never exhibited signs of distress and was pronounced physically competent by the doctor.
